Login

We have implemented new computer software. If you have not used the new system your default login is your OCT number and your password is your postal code including the space. Once you have logged in you can change your password by clicking on your name under profile on the left navigation and then click on the security button to change your password.

If you are having difficulty logging in reset your password using the link at the bottom of this page to begin the process. Once you have entered your email address you will be sent an email containing a secure link to reset your password. After your password is changed you will be able to login using your OCT number as your username and your new password.

If you are having trouble signing up, and need to reset your password, contact Research and Field Development at raiseyouraq@edu.yorku.ca or contact 416 736 5003.
